

The world can be your oyster too...

...with a career in the maritime industry!

Do you want more from life than a 9 to 5 routine and have the desire to progress your career within our global maritime industry? If so, those with an adventurous spirit, a determination to overcome any challenges and the willingness to take on higher-level responsibilities at an early age can expect to reap the many rewards of such a unique career and working environment.

These benefits can include sponsored training, immense job satisfaction, development of transferable skills, excellent career and salary prospects, worldwide employment opportunities, travelling the world at someone else's expense, and incredible experiences aboard and ashore.

Just Be Maritime is now actively recruiting Officer Cadets to commence their training in either January or September each year for the Deck (Navigation), Marine Engineering and Electro-Technical Officer (ETO) roles aboard ships.

For further information, please see our website below or contact us direct at:

T. 02380 170904 | E. info@justbemaritime.com

www.justbemaritime.com